Roche · Senior IT Professional (Java) · remotely

After releasing application described below I was responsible for maintaining it along with developing two related projects. Later, after a year or so, I was delegated to another project build from scratch. There I was working mostly on backend side as a main developer dedicated to implement Elasticsearch usage.

11/2015 - 11/2016

IT Professional (Java) · remotely

I have worked on a web application which is basically an interface for multiple SharePoints. It allows label and upload files and efficiently search all of them. Frontend was based on AngularJS and backend on Java 8 with Spring Framework. The application communicates with SharePoints via web services and WebDAV.
